WARREN NEWS.

The Woodmen of the World had a big time at Erickson's hall Saturday night, when eighteen candidates were initiated into the order. About fifty members of Multnomah Camp came down from Portland and Mr. Martin White, chief officer of the Pacific jurisdiction, was also present. After the initiation the wives of the local members were invited in to witness the drill work by the Multnomah team, and this was followed by several speeches, and last of all a bountiful supper prepared by Mrs. N. F. Baker. A band from Multnomah camp played while the tables were being set, and Mr. Zimmerman sang two solos, which were highly appreciated by all. Upon their arrival the Portland men were greeted by several selections by the Warren band.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Monteith, of Portland, are visiting with Mrs. Monteith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Erickson.

The sick people of the neighborhood are improving in health.

Emery Dahlgren, Lyla Rylander and Charles Erickson are all able to be around and Margaret Miller is getting along nicely. Mrs. R. O. Hanson is some better but not fully recovered yet. Mrs. Martha Cooper is improving. Mrs. J. S. Bacon, however, is not so well and has gone to Portland for treatment.

Mrs. F. J. Loomis was down Wednesday afternoon from Scappoose where she is staying until the roads improved so that the auto truck can come down to Warren.

Emil Anderson is reported on the sick list.

Mr. A. H. Tarbell shipped a carload of hogs from here Wednesday.

Walter Lund has been suffering from a gathering in his head. Walter Erickson is also quite sick.

LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK GOOD FOR OREGON

There never has been a time in the history of the state when the farmers have had such an opportunity to make money by raising livestock for meat purposes as at present. With an aggregate shortage of over 2,000,000 meat animals, approximately 800,000,000 pounds, in the leading packing centers of the United States, it is certain that for some years to come there will not only be an unlimited demand for meat animals, but it is also certain that prices will range high.

It is a fact that nearly all the big cattle ranges of the state have been broken up and that in only a few locations is it possible to find pasture for large herds, but it is also a fact that the average farm could be made to produce a larger number of animals than it is now doing. With the big packers and bankers willing and anxious to co-operate with reliable farmers in the state in stocking farms and ranches, it would appear that any farmer who fails to take advantage of his opportunity in this direction is making a mistake. The population of the entire Northwest is increasing at a rapid rate, the people must be supplied with meat, and if Oregon ranches cannot meet the demand it will certainly be met by other states, a large amount of money will be sent away and the meat industry of the state damaged to just that extent.

DEATH

Anna, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beegle, of the Yankton neighborhood, died Saturday, February 6, of pneumonia. The little girl was but a few months old, having been born March 26, 1914. The child was ill but a short time. The body was laid to rest in the Yankton cemetery. Beautiful floral pieces were given by the Batchelor Flat Sunday school. Rev. Mr. Wood conducted funeral services at the home.

—and, Son, Just One More Word

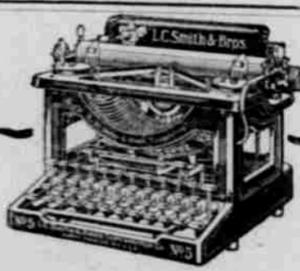

LIKE all red-blooded men, you have a natural desire for stimulants.

I'm fifty-five years young and all my life I've drunk beer—temperately. That fact is largely responsible for my present rugged constitution.

I want you to pattern after me. Walk into a beer saloon whenever you feel the need of a mild stimulant and get your glass of beer. It's the drink of real temperance. Those people who meet up with in life who tell you total abstinence is Temperance are deceiving themselves. They're the kind that close the decent tax-paying saloons and foster the speak-easy and blind pig.

Steer clear of those dives, my boy, and you'll never cultivate an appetite for strong drinks. You've got a perfect right to drink beer moderately, but do it soberly, son—in the beer saloon, where decent men are ashamed to drink to excess. I won't fear the caliber of the companions you meet there.

Typewriter Gives Business Standing

The small town merchant, the rural business man or the farmer who uses a typewriter has the advantage over the man who does not. The typewriter not only saves time in writing letters and making out bills, but it adds prestige and reputation to the user.

The L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter is especially adapted to use in rural districts because it will stand more wear and does not require an expert operator. By following the instructions we will give you, you will have no trouble learning.
